How to Use:

1. Print and cut out the adventure cards.
2. Each card presents students with a decision and two possible paths. They must choose one and use the sentence starter to explain their choice by completing the sentence with a conjunction like when, so, or because.

Conjunctions Chart

Conjunction	How It's Used	Example
when	To show time or a specific moment	"I go to the park when it's sunny."
so	To show a result or consequence	"It was raining, so we stayed inside."
because	To give a reason	"I brought my umbrella because it looked cloudy."
if	To show a condition or possibility	"We will go to the zoo if it stops raining."
although	To show contrast between two ideas	"Although I was tired, I still finished my homework."
before	To show something that happens earlier	"We ate lunch before we went to the museum."
after	To show something that happens later	"I did my homework after I got home."
and	To join similar ideas together	"I have a cat and a dog."
but	To show a contrast between ideas	"I wanted to play outside, but it started raining."
or	To present choices	"We can have pizza or pasta for dinner."
while	To show two things happening at the same time	"I was reading while my sister was cooking."
what	To introduce a clause (used in questions or explanations)	"She told me what she likes."
unless	To show a condition or exception	"You can't go to the park unless you finish your homework."

Adventure Map

How to Play:

1. Step 1: Start the Journey

Students begin at the Start Point and draw the first card.

They write their sentence and choose the path based on the conjunction they used (e.g., “I went left because I heard a sound”). They then move to the next step.

2. Step 2: Move Along the Path

They repeat the process at each step by drawing a new card, or using a conjunction, and moving along the map—the choices they make with conjunctions like because, so, or when lead them forward.

3. Step 3: Reach the Final Step

- After 13 steps, students reach the end of the map.
- Final Reflection Activity: Describe your adventure using at least three conjunctions to summarize the key moments in your journey.
